THE "BREAK" IN THE GAME.

Baseball Almost as Much Psychological as Athletic.

Nearly every baseball game is won and lost on one play—a play that comes at the psychological instant. Among the players who do not study psychology the crucial moment is known as "the break," a phenomenon which no one has analyzed and which the players themselves do not understand. Twenty men on the bench are watching closely and intently every move of the pitcher, every swing of his arm. The tide of battle rises, ebbs, and then suddenly at the start of some inning something happens. It is not one outside the psychic sphere of influence over which we understand, but the silent, tight, watchful, alert fellows on the bench see something or feel something, and the mysterious "break" has come.

"One ball!" The players on the bench suddenly stiffen and prepare for action.

"Two balls!" Two players jump for bats and begin swinging them. The pitchers, who have yelled only because it was their duty, suddenly begin raging, screaming and pawing the dirt, and the manager, who has appeared half asleep, makes a trumpet of his hands and leads his men, howling loud orders and wild taunts.

The spectators do not understand anything has happened. They have heard two balls called many times, and it looks the same to the spectator who is beyond the mystic "break" sphere.

In two more moments the players' bench is a madhouse, with twenty men shouting, screaming, ordering, mooting. "Three balls!" and a madman rushes out to the "deck."

"Four balls!" and the spectators join the players in the demonstration. The madness is spreading. Crack—a base hit, a bunt, a wild throw; another base hit, screams, shouts, imprecations, a roar of frantic applause, a final long cry. The manager reaches for his glove, splits into it and says quietly, "Four runs—we've got 'em."

"The break" is over, and the players' bench is again the quietest part of the grounds. The sun is shining, calm, confidence and noise subside, and the game is won.

Baseball is almost as much psychological as athletic. Why one team beats a stronger one regularly and loses to a weaker with the same regularity, why one pitcher can hit one pitcher and is helpless before another, why one pitcher is effective against a strong team and at the same time is out of control against a weaker one, are psychological problems.—American Magazine.

A MISER'S END.

Meanness of M. Vandille and the Way He Hastened His Death.

M. Vandille was chief magistrate at Roulogne and by miserly habits left a fortune of $1,000,000. His end was a sad one. He had a wife and three children, but he was so miserly that he had to leave them all penniless.

THE STATE UNIVERSITY

LEXINGTON, KY.

The State University, Lexington, Kentucky, offers the following courses, namely, Agricultural, Mechanical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Mining Engineering, Classical and seven Scientific courses each of which extends over four years and leads to a Bachelor's degree; also a Department of Law and a Department of Education, which last has been established instead of the Normal School. Persons who enter this department prepare for advanced work in pedagogy and are granted a Bachelor's degree in this subject when completed. The Academy for preparatory instruction is retained.

County appointees receive free tuition, privilege of residence in the dormitories, fuel and light, traveling expenses, if they remain ten consecutive months, or one collegiate year.

The Laboratory and museum are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern. Military Science is fully provided for as required by Congress.

The graduates in the several courses of study readily find employment with liberal remuneration. The total number of matriculates for last year was 1078. Each department has a specialist at its head, with the necessary number of assistants.

Young women find an excellent home, with board and lodging, in Patterson Hall which is well equipped with all the modern conveniences, bath room, hall for physical culture, at $3.00 per week. All courses of study in the University are upon to women on identical conditions with those applying to males.

A BUSINESS EXTENDER.

The Kind of Man For Whom There is a Big Demand.
"I am looking for a clerk, a man with a personality, a man who can do things and increase my business. Money is no item. I will not take salary into consideration. I will pay $100, $125 or whatever he is worth. I want the man." That is what a successful merchant said some days ago.
Let us pay our respects to the merchant who is looking for a clerk of this kind. A good clerk deserves a good salary and usually gets it. This united of good pay for good service is the basic principle of the relation between employer and employee. While all merchants are not willing to pay enough salary to their clerks, there are more who are. They are glad to pay all a clerk is worth than there are clerks who are glad to be worth all they are paid.
Every village, town and city is looking for the man who can "increase business." The man who will work for the interests of his employer is wanted the world over. The world of business is crying out for such men.
For men whom it can trust and in whom it can place confidence that a thing will be done when the "boss" back is turned. This man will be wanted in every store, factory, at every post and in every great business in the land.
If you are attempting to avoid responsibility and as much work as possible you will, unless by great mistake, escape promotion or increase in salary.
There are two kinds of clerks, and only two kinds. One the entire business world is anxiously searching for, and the other the entire business world is anxiously waiting to get rid of—Twin City Commercial Bulletin.

Victims of Circumstances.
"That Englishman's funny cap," remarked the hat salesman in the big store, "he hasn't been out of his room today."
"No, he is a victim of circumstances," confided the coffee salesman.
"Victims of circumstances?"
"Yes, he got his shoes outside his door last night, according to the English custom, and somebody threw them at a set down the stairway."—Chicago

Mrs. Annie Wright died at her home near Macon July 20 after a lingering illness. She was a daughter of the late John C.
Edelen and was born about 28 years ago, and reared in the neighborhood where she died.
Four years ago she married Dr. Wright, with whom a small child survives her. Funeral services took place at St. Rose Thursday. The large crowd of friends present was evidence of the high esteem in which she was held by all who knew her.

Dogs made a raid on the flock on the farm of Mr. J. Y. Mayes, yesterday morning and killed and wounded several fine sheep.

Two dogs were caught in the act and pursued by a party of men, who succeeded in killing one of them, but the other escaped.
There are a number of sheep killing dogs in and around Springfield, which have been the cause of much damage to sheep and other stock, and it is pleasing to know that we are at least rid of one of them.

was occupied by Mr. Kirk Chest-ham as a grocery store. The fire started in the rear of the building where there was stored a large quantity of meat. The building was considerably damaged, but the greatest damage was to the stock of goods, which he practically a total loss. The damage to the stock of goods will be about $250 with $750 home of his father, Mr. Ben Young on last Saturday after an illness of several weeks, from an abscess of the brain. Mr. Young had just reached his twenty-first year, and was an energetic young man whose mild manner and jovial disposition won him many friends. He possessed a determination to do that which he believed expedient and just, and had his young life not been cut short in the prime of his manhood, would doubtless have made a man of considerable prominence.

Funeral services were conducted at St. Dominics Monday by Rev.
Father Hennessy after which the remains were followed by a large concourse of friends to their last resting place in St.
Dominics cemetery. His six brothers acted as pall bearers.

Real Estate Sales.

Several sales of real estate were made by Trustee Commissioner M. G. Leachman at the court house door, Monday.

In the action of the Templeton National Bank vs. A. M.
Alexander, 50 acres of land on the Perryville pike was purchased by the plaintiff.

Several sales were made in the action of Jennie Reary, admx., vs. John Searcy, etc. The House and lot in the eastern extension of Springfield, now occupied by W.
P. Kelly, was purchased by Mr.
G. C. Wharton for $905.00.

The brick building on the north side of East Main street was purchased by Mr. J. C.
McElroy for $3165.00.

The tobacco warehouse property near the depot was purchased by Mr. B. D. Lake for $225.00. The building will be used in handling tobacco.

Points Each Day.

The run could be made in a very short time, but in order to prevent accidents, about one hour will be consumed in making the run. Every precaution will be taken to prevent harm to anyone, and Mr. Gratz, wishes to say to the public, that if anyone driving a horse that becomes frightened at the machine, will hold up his hand, he will promptly stop the machine and if necessary lead the horse by. He advises persons meeting the machine at night not to pull off the road but to keep in the middle of it, as he can see them a considerable distance ahead and will pull the automobile off, and let the vehicle pass, leading the horse by if necessary.

If this care is exercised in running the auto little trouble will be experienced with frightened horses and prejudice against automobiles will be oph, for it is only those who run them with a reckless disregard for the safety of others who have created any prejudice at all. There is little danger if automobiles are run properly, but reckless drivers will ever receive our severest criticism.

RESOLUTIONS.

We, the undersigned committee respectfully beg leave to report the following:

1. We congratulate ourselves and the county for the ever-increasing indication of higher appreciation in, and a deeper interest in a forward movement along all educational lines, believing it to be a most hopeful sign of the times. Old times are passing away, and new conditions and new standards make it imperative that the teacher, ever diligent in measuring up to these new ideals, and we are persuaded that the teachers of Washington County fully realize the new demand upon them, and we feel a justifiable pride in the record they are making.

2. We consider ourselves especially fortunate in having so able, so scholarly, so original a thinker as Prof. A. S. Mackenzie is universally admitted to be as our conductor. We shall always be indebted to him as teachers and individuals for the generous aid and inspiration he has brought to us. We feel we have caught a glimpse from the uplands that shall lighten and brighten our paths wherever they may lead. He has been sympathetic, considerate and uniformly inspiring, illustrating in speech and practice the teacher's idea.

3. We acknowledge our indebtedness and gratitude to all those good people of Springfield, who by their speeches and music have so largely contributed to the success of our institute.

4. We compliment the officers and members of various committees for the faithful performance of the duty devolved upon them.

5. We regret the enforced absence of our beloved superintendent, and we feel that we have missed deeply his genial presence and able leadership.

6. We renew our loyalty to the new educational system and again endorse the legislation which made it possible. Under this law the establishment of one or more high schools is contemplated, and we, the teachers of Washington county respectfully suggest to the educational board of Washington County, that they establish a high school of the first class in Springfield.
We believe that such a school would do much toward securing more efficient teachers in the rural schools, and that it would establish an educational center from which would radiate the best educational influences throughout the entire county.

We pledge our hearty endorsement of such action by the county board, and we also promise our co-operation in the establishment of graded schools and high schools at other points in the county as they become possible and practical.

7. We are in favor of further legislation along educational lines, fixing the minimum salary of the teacher at $40 per month, that the salary of county superintendent be fixed at $1250 per year; that the school term be extended from 6 to 9 months in each year, and that a compulsory law that can be enforced be enacted by our next legislature, and we instruct our next representative that he do all he can to secure the legislation.

8. We declare it to be the sense of this body that a higher standard of professional ethics be practiced by the members of our profession. We believe it to be unprofessional for a teacher to apply for a position in a school until a vacancy. And we believe that the best results can be secured by retaining professional officers, whether they be superintendent, trustee or teacher, so long as they render efficient and satisfactory service.
We further believe that professional etiquette demands that we stand together as a body, and that the strength of the individual teacher.

9. We believe that our profession should be non-sectarian and non political, and shall stand behind the trustees of the county in applying this practice.
We believe that fitness alone, mental and moral should be demanded, and we pledge the trustees of our county the hearty co-operation of our profession. We believe that their interest is our interest and that we and they should consider nothing except as how best to serve our boys and girls.

10. We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to Prof. Geo.
Colvin for the able manner in which he has performed the duties of president of this Institute in the absence of our superintendent. We therefore endorse him and petition our county superintendent to employ him as conductor of the Institute next year.

11. We feel very grateful to the editors of the local papers for the interest they have manifested in education. We fully realize that the Press is the medium through which educational sentiment reaches the great masses.
